

Unit4 ERP Project Management

Power optimized and profitable projects

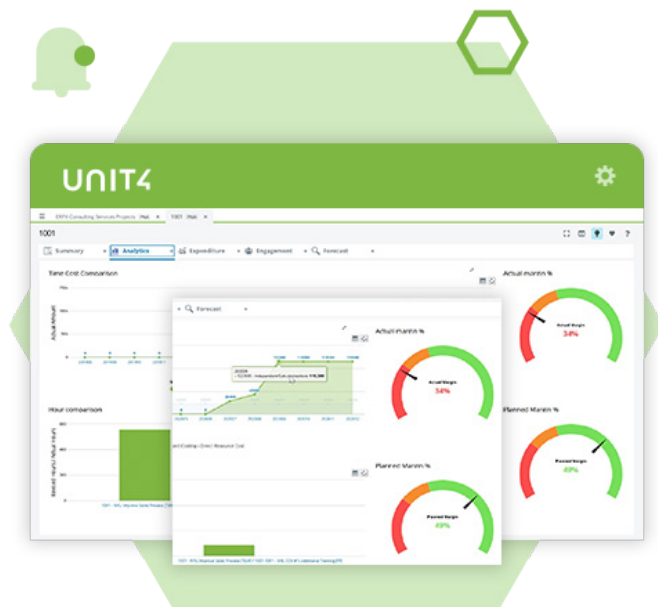

Unit4 ERP's adaptable and easy-to-use suite of capabilities helps service-centric organizations improve their productivity, resilience, and ability to transform at speed.

Included in this suite are project management capabilities built for people-based organizations.

In project-based organizations, project managers must fulfil their customers' demands while achieving maximum profitability and optimum cash flow. In the current climate of increasing expectations and changing market conditions, project managers need to have the right data and tools at their fingertips to deliver the most successful project outcomes.

Projects can range from small internal projects to large complex contracts that may go across various legal entities, generating significant contributions to operational turnover and profitability, involving large numbers of resources, and incurring high costs.
